My given name is Tan Chade-Meng, where the family name (“Tan”) comes first, in the Chinese tradition. The name Chade-Meng came from the story of a famous Chinese ruler. I started using the nickname “Meng” when I realized Americans can’t do names with more than one syllable. Unfortunately, in Singapore where I grew up, Meng is also the name of Singapore’s most famous orangutan. I ...

103 quotes from Chade-Meng Tan: 'The key is to let go of two things: grasping and aversion. Grasping is when the mind desperately holds on to something and refuses to let it go. Aversion is when the mind desperately keeps something away and refuses to let it come. These two qualities are flip sides of each other. Grasping and aversion together account for a huge percentage of the suffering we ...
