In seventeenth century Italy, overcrowding, violent political uprising, and plague led an astonishing number of abandoned and orphaned children to overwhelm the cities. Out of the piety of private citizens and the apathy of local governments, the system of conservatori was created to house,

nurture, and train
these fanciulli vaganti (roaming children) to become hatters,
shoemakers, tailors,
goldsmiths, cabinet
makers, and
musicians - a range of practical trades that and enable them to contribute to society. Conservatori were founded across Italy, from Venice and Florence to Parma and Naples, many specializing in a particular trade. Four music conservatori in Naples gained particular renown for their exceptional training of musicians, country -including the Paris Conservatory - began to imitate the principles of the

Naples'
conservatory's
training, known as the
partimento tradition.
The daily lessons and exercises associated with this tradition were largely lost-until author Robert discovered evidence of them in the archives of conservatories across Italy and the rest of Europe. Compellingly narrated and richly illustrated, Child Composers in the Old Conservatory follows the story of these boys as they undergo rigorous training with the conservatory's of this tradition to enable natural

students of all ages

today.
