A sensuous valentine to author Ferenc Máté's adopted homeland, The Hills of Tuscany brims with lush descriptions of golden dales, scrumptious meals, rich wines, and friendly natives. After years of nomadic roaming from Central America to Canada, Máté (a writer) and his wife, Candace (a painter), visit Tuscany and impulsively decide that this is where they will settle down.

Based in large part on a persuasive recommendation from our friend Megan, we decided the hills of Tuscany would be perfect for our five day recharge. For those that aren't familiar with this area, Tuscany is a beautiful region in central Italy that's known for its green hills, fresh food, and fantastic wine - especially Chianti. Florence is the largest city in the area, but the region is best known for its small, ancient villages that give the area a very old world and relaxed vibe.

The Tuscan hills near Lucca We rented our Tuscany villa in Bagni di Lucca, just outside of the pretty medieval walled city of Lucca. This pretty series of villages along the river Lima was the perfect base to explore the hills of northern Tuscany and the Garfagnana region. You can just as easily plan a day trip from Florence or Pisa to this area.

Hills of Tuscany is a beautiful neighborhood just minutes to Lake Weir, The Villages, and Ocala. The homes here range in age from mid 2000s to new builds. Enjoy all the fun Lake Weir has to offer during the summer while being close by all the good shopping and restaurants of The Villages. This area is still very affordable which makes it very sought after!

"The hills of Tuscany", "the hills of Chianti" are the titles of innumerable introductions to Tuscany. Strangely enough, the districts of Tuscany and very often the names of the towns themselves refer not to ranges of hills but to the valleys they overlook.

Isabella tells of a Tuscany that is closer to reality than the mystical dream it is so often portrayed to be. Her true story involves not only her personal struggles in moving and adapting to Montalcino (her reasons for which are a secret that none in the village knows), but also of the curious rituals and traditions within a society that struggles to cope with the modern world.

On the hills of Tuscany, roughly 20 km from Florence, we find this 13th-century medieval tower, finely restored and converted into a private residence with 4 bedrooms and 5 bathrooms. The building is currently split into three apartments for a total of 400 sqm and is ideal for a boutique accommodation business thanks to its private location close to Florence.
